YMS Outdoor Meeting

Recent changes to government Covid-19 policies may put our outdoor meetings at risk for the time being. The other factor to consider is that Autumn is here and the weather will not be so kind to us in the months to come. The YMS Trustees are looking at possibilities for small groups to safely meet in the coming months and will communicate with their thoughts with the members in the next few weeks.

Charlie and Brian make their first visit to our outdoor meetings. Derek welcomes them as he has now joined us several times.

Charlie poses for the camera – Dave would have appreciated a chair but had promised to help his son finish his kitchen.

Concurrent conversations are easy to maintain in the open air – I counted 4 such concurrent conversations at one stage with little crossover.

The sun was out and the senior members took advantage soon after this shot moving away from the hedge to bask in the sun.
